LOVE

Men and women are born into this world without a care. After a while troubles beset them. Then Mr. Cupid comes along, restores bliss and promotes that delightful courtship which develops in due course the still more delightful wedding and honeymoon. But the super-delightful part of the business is buying the furniture and buying it from a firm with a century's reputation for excellent goods and honest dealing. . . . . .

PULLING DOWN RUINED BUILDINGS.

On Saturday workmen were engaged pulling down the walls of buildings which had been partially destroyed in Sackville street and Abbey street. The walls of some of these buildings, standing without supports, were incapable of withstanding a stiff breeze, which might occur at any time, and they accordingly rendered the thoroughfare in which they stood unsafe for pedestrians. It was, therefore, deemed necessary to pull them down with a view to safeguarding the public.

Our portrait is of Mrs. Hewitt, of 117 Tilbury Dwellings, Tilbury, who writes:—"My leg was covered with large ulcerated sores. I consulted four doctors at different times, and they gave me medicine and ointments, but still I seemed to get worse. One day a neighbour asked me to try Clarke's Blood Mixture, and after taking several bottles I am completely cured. At one time my leg was so bad that the doctors thought I should have to have it amputated, but thanks to Clarke's Blood Mixture I am now quite well."

CURED BY

If you suffer from any such disease as Eczema, Scrofula, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Boils, Pimples, Sores of any kind, Piles, Blood Poison, Rheumatism, Gout, &c., don't waste your time and money on useless lotions and messy ointments which cannot get below the surface of the skin. What you want and what you must have is a medicine that will thoroughly free the blood of the poisonous matter, which alone is the true cause of all your sufferings. Clarke's Blood Mixture is just such a medicine. It is composed of ingredients which quickly expel from the blood all impurities from whatever cause arising, and by rendering it clean and pure can be relied on to effect a complete and lasting cure.

Over fifty years' success. Pleasant to the taste.

PEMBROKE BRIGADE AMBULANCE.

DAMAGE IN THE TOWNSHIP.

Heavy work fell upon the Pembroke Fire Brigade ambulance during the rebellion, and in that period the motor vehicles made nearly 200 runs. At ten minutes to four on Easter Monday there came the first call, that to the succour of the wounded "G.R.'s," fourteen of whom were removed by the Council motor ambulance to the Royal City of Dublin Hospital. At half-past three on Tuesday, when the soldiers attacked the rebel stronghold at the corner of Haddington road, Captain Dr. De Burgh Daly, junior, asked for an ambulance to remove the wounded. Mr. J. C. Hutson, Captain of the Brigade, drove one of the motor ambulances, and took Dr. Daly and two brigade men as bearers. At Carisbrook House, at the corner of Lansdowne road, they found civilians and soldiers lying about wounded. After taking some of them to hospital, Captain Hutson went back for morphia, and also fetched Dr. Lumsden, who rendered great assistance to the wounded in Northumberland road, under fire. The ambulance itself was the target of shots from the Sinn Feiners, and bears the marks of bullets on its sides. Soon after midday, Captain Hutson's assistant, Mr. Bruton, drove the ambulance round, collecting food for the numerous wounded who lay in private houses in Northumberland road, and also took them milk, the gift of cows at the Spring Show. In this work much assistance was rendered by Councillor and Mrs. Mooney and Mrs. Scott, while Mr. C. P. O'Neill, Councillor T. Crowe, Mr. J. C. Manly, Clerk to the Council; and Dr. Burke rendered very useful service in a trying time.

Several fire calls were received from the Dublin Fire Brigade, but Pembroke was unable to pass the fighting zone and reach the city. Throughout Tuesday night, the Merryweather motor pump combination stood ready with its crew aboard, and from Monday till Friday the brigade, with their captain, were unable to remove their clothes. Those who drove the motor ambulances were Captain J. C. Hutson, M. Bruton, C. Moynihan, and A. McManus, and their work was carried on at great risk. Damage in Pembroke Council area, due to the rebellion and its suppression, is roughly estimated at £750,000.

A BRAVE YOUNG OFFICER.

The officers in charge of the various units of His Majesty's Forces in Dublin during the Sinn Fein revolt have performed many brave exploits, and, unfortunately, many of them have fallen in the execution of their duty. It was Lieutenant J. R. Hempseed, of the 5th Battalion South Staffordshire Regiment, who, accompanied by the Rev. Father Columbus, O.S.F.C., entered the Four Courts on Saturday, April 29th, to inform the leader of the rebels who were encamped in the building that the commandant-in-chief of the insurgents, P. H. Pearse, had agreed to unconditional surrender. He and the clergyman had an interview with the commandant, Edward Daly, one of the men who have paid the death penalty, and Daly's signature was obtained to a document. All through the military operations, from Ballsbridge to the Four Courts, this brave young officer was in the forefront of the fighting. He went through the city in the most dangerous parts, and his men in armoured motor cars, by which means they were enabled to surround the Four Courts. One of the souvenirs of the Dublin rising which he treasures is the pay manual of one of the prominent leaders, which he succeeded in obtaining at great risk to himself.

THE DAMAGE BY FIRE.

Captain Purcell, of the Dublin Fire Brigade, estimates that between £300,000 and £400,000 is the amount of damage caused by the fire at the Linen Hall and four business houses in Bolton street, making the total in Dublin City about two and a half million pounds.

THE LATE MR. ROBERT DILLON.

Many citizens of Dublin will learn with deep regret of the death of Mr. Robert Dillon, who for nearly 35 years had carried on business in the old-established premises known as "The Flag," at 6 and 8 Moore street. Mr. Dillon met his death while trying to escape with his wife and daughter from their burning premises on the morning of 29th April. He was known as a man of high principle and sterling honesty, and his charitable work amongst the poor of the city in connection with the St. Vincent de Paul Society had brought solace and relief to many a desolate home. Much sympathy will be extended to his wife and daughter in their sorrow.

ROYAL DUBLIN SOCIETY'S SHOW.

PROVISIONAL ADJUDICATION.

THE AWARDS.

The Pedigree Cattle Show, which will close with the sales to be held to-morrow, will have just lasted for a full fortnight under circumstances which will make the event historic in the annals of the Royal Dublin Society. The outbreak of the rebellion on Easter Monday, preceding the opening day, completely arrested all the functions for which the show is held. A great number of the entries, about 30 per cent. of the total, had not arrived when the show opened, and the largest proportion of the absentees was among the shorthorns. At first it was hoped that the sales might have been held and the show completed on Friday, 28th April, but events made this impossible. Virtually no business has been done by implement and machinery makers or the other allied industries connected with agriculture. Some of these exhibits still remain, but most of the stands are now dismantled, and Ballsbridge has at present more the appearance of a large camp than a cattle show, the remaining animals being crowded away in two halls and the paddock boxes, in order to make room for the increasing needs of the military authorities. Notwithstanding adverse circumstances, there will be a fine collection of heavily-substanced cattle of the three leading breeds, numbering up to 400 head, which will pass through the rings when the sales open at 8 a.m. on Tuesday.

A provisional adjudication has been made which may be subject to some alterations when the merits of the remaining entries still held up at the North side of the city are considered.

To our view the shorthorns do not present so many stylish winners as they have done in previous years, but this may in some measure be due to the fact that they have not been seen to the best advantage. Mr. Alexander Robinson's Chaloner Plate winner, Royal Master, the first prize, aged bull, is rather a striking winner, and superior to the Chaloner Plate winner, Rubicon, of last year. He has a typical head and facing, with a fine back and rib, level quality all over, and plenty of substance. The reserve and silver medal for the best two-year-old goes to Mr. Joseph Bowden, for the first winner in the younger two-year-olds, a stylish-looking red, named Orphan Bowden's Choice, by Royal Master; while Sir James H. Stronge's first winner in the older class, Shankill Colonel, which is placed in the reserve for the silver medal, is a thickly-substanced roan of good type, with a great back and rib.

The Aberdeen-Angus were forward in great strength, but the general quality was not up to former years, though, as in the case of the shorthorns, this deficiency may only be apparent on account of the difficulties under which they were shown. Among the yearling bulls there were a great many thickly-substanced animals, well calculated to fulfil the functions to which the breed is mainly devoted in Ireland—the crossing for beef purposes. The Aberdeen-Angus Challenge Cup, for the best female, and the gold medal, for the best animal of that breed have not yet been awarded, and something better even than what has appeared may yet be seen among the late arrivals.

We print below the special cup awards. Other awards will appear in to-morrow's issue.

POSTAL SERVICE IN KINGSTOWN.

There is one postal delivery a day in Kingstown. Telegraphic facilities to England and Scotland are now available to the inhabitants, but not to the City of Dublin or to residents in the County of Dublin outside Kingstown. A limited telephonic service is also in operation. From to-day the Kingstown General Post Office will be open to the public from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. daily.

KINGSTOWN TRAIN SERVICE.

To-morrow the Dublin and South-Eastern Railway Company will resume the ordinary service between Kingstown, Bray, and Dublin, and the South. To-day the service of trains will be as follows:—From Westland row to Bray, trains will run at 8.45 a.m. and 10.45 a.m. and 12.45 p.m., 2.45, 4.45, and 6.45 p.m. A train will leave Westland row at 7.50 p.m. for Carlisle Pier, to convey cross-Channel passengers to the boat. There will be a train at 5.37 a.m. from the Carlisle Pier, Kingstown, in connection with the mail boat service. This train runs to Amiens street. Trains from Bray to Westland row will run as follows:—From Bray to Dublin at 7.55 a.m., 9 and 11 a.m., and at 1 p.m., 3, 5, and 7 p.m. A train will also be run from Kingstown at 9 a.m. to Dublin.

When you ask for BERMALINE resolutely refuse substitutes.—(Advt.)

DUBLIN'S AMUSEMENTS.

A HEAVY LOSS.

Among the businesses to suffer heavily by the revolt is that of the provision of amusements. The collapse of the arrangements for a fortnight of D'Oyly Carte opera has brought disappointment to the public and a heavy loss to the Gaiety Theatre, where full houses have always been the rule during the annual visit of the company. The restrictions of martial law, by which the public are prohibited from being out of doors after dark, prevent the holding of evening entertainments for a time, so that loss is not confined to the period of actual fighting. The greatest direct loss to those who cater for public amusement is the destruction of the recently-built Coliseum Theatre. Viewing it from Henry street, one would imagine that it was undamaged, but a view from the top of the steps which led to the circle reveals an abyss of destruction caused by the fire. The dressing rooms remain, and wisps of asbestos which formed the safety curtain mark the location of the stage. The space between contains a gaunt skeleton of the theatre, and stout steel beams are to be seen twisted into most fantastic shapes, while there are one or two heaps of ironwork, remnants of the seating. During last week the directors were procuring estimates of the damage, and hope to be in a position to reckon it up next week. They have taken steps with a view to obtaining compensation from one source or another for their loss. The booking and business offices of the theatre are little damaged.

CASUALTIES IN THE NORTH DUBLIN UNION.

During the fighting on Friday night, 28th ult., Patrick Geraghty, slater, and Dominick O'Donoghue, clerk, were killed while looking from the tower of the North Dublin Union. Twelve non-commissioned officers of various regiments were arrested by the rebels, and placed in St. John's Convent. They were afterwards transferred to a ward in the workhouse, and subsequently handed over to the military authorities. The consumption wards were pierced with bullets, and some of the inmates were terror-stricken. In three days 21,500lbs. of bread was distributed to those in need. Refugees from the Church street area to the number of 359 were housed and fed in the Union.

MILITARY REGULATIONS AT KINGSTOWN.

The military authorities have somewhat relieved the stringency of recent regulations affecting Kingstown. The public are now permitted to be on the streets up till 8.30 p.m., instead of only up to 7.30 o'clock at night, as previously obtained. No person without a military permit is allowed to enter or leave Kingstown by any route. The township limits for this purpose are Monkstown Church and Sandycove, where all papers must be produced for examination. Passengers both by train and tram or any other mode of conveyance must be properly provided with passes. Sub-offices for the issue of permits have been opened, and this has greatly eased the situation, as the public are no longer compelled to wait for long periods before reaching the Provost-Marshal's office. Until the new arrangements were made, hundreds of persons were compelled to stand for four and five hours in the queue before obtaining a permit.

MARKET REPORTS.

GRAIN.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES, BALTIC, Friday.—WHEAT—Cargo trade quiet, but prices were fairly maintained. LIVERPOOL, Friday.—The sharp decline cabled from America had already been partially discounted here, though little disposition was shown to operate, and c.i.f. parcels fell 4½d. per qr. from the best of yesterday. MAIZE firmer, with past week's shipments from the Argentine less than forecasted, and a better general demand. WHEAT on the spot was quiet and only a moderate business was concluded, prices generally being ½d. to 1d. per cental under Tuesday's market currencies. MAIZE—Spot parcels were in improved request, and a fair trade resulted at last market day's prices, yellow River Plate, exceptionally, ½d. per cental dearer. FLOUR quiet, but not quotably altered, the minimum price of baker's grade being still 46/- per sack. Foreign quiet and unchanged. BEANS firm and in fair request at higher prices. PEAS and BARLEY steady at late rates. OATS in fair demand and generally ½d. to 1d. dearer. OATMEAL firm and prices tended against buyers.

Imports of Grain, etc. (Centals).

BUTTER, EGGS, AND POULTRY.

DUBLIN WHOLESALE MARKETS, May 6.—EGG MARKETS remain at a standstill pending supplies. FISH TRADE also idle this morning for the same reason. VEGETABLES, however, came to hand in liberal quantities, but, nevertheless, cleared out freely, with the exception of cauliflowers, which prove an absolute drug. The following were the quotations:—York cabbages, 25/- to 40/- and extra, 48/- to 65/- per load; Swede turnips, 3/- to 3/9 per cwt.; cauliflowers, best, 1/6 to 2/7; seconds, 8d. to 1/- per flasket; parsnips, 6/- per cwt.; parsley, 1/6 to 2/- per float; carrots, 1/6 to 1/9 per dozen bunches; rhubarb, 2/- to 3/6 per dozen bunches.

MANCHESTER, May 4th.—A firmer tone prevails all round, with the selection available rather more limited. For Danish 172/- is now quoted, against 170/- to 172/- on previous market day; while Irish creameries stand at the previous level of 166/- to 168/-. No spot New Zealand is offered, but butter to arrive is mentioned at 172/-. The market for Finnish and Siberian continues nominal.

PROVISIONS.

LIVERPOOL, Friday.—BACON—Chicago advices were of a decidedly more encouraging character, but these were counteracted to some extent by the continued heavy arrivals here. Holders were fairly steady, but the demand was again of only a moderate consumptive character, though the only quotable change was a partial decline of 1/- per cwt. in short backs. Irish, Danish, and Canadian sides, from continued scarcity, remained firm at recent currencies, though the best brands of Cumberland cut of latter were obtainable at a decline of 1/- per 112lbs. Shoulders were not over plentiful, especially picnics, which were held for 6d. per cwt. more money, though the demand generally was of only moderate extent. HAMS were steadily held at late rates for all cuts, though buyers again operated merely for their actual needs. LARD on the spot, under the influence of the sharp rise cabled from Chicago, was raised 6d. per cwt. for prime steam, and 6d. to 1/- for American refined, but only a moderate inquiry was experienced, chiefly for American refined. CHEESE firm, owing to continued scarcity, and prices of both finest States and Canadian were advanced 1/- per cwt. BUTTER remained firm, with a little more inquiry at about late figures for all makes. EGGS again ruled quietly steady and unaltered.

TRADE REPORT.

LONDON WOOL SALES.—The third series of London Colonial wool sales of current year closed on Friday with catalogues comprising 9,083 bales, consisting chiefly of New Zealand, Punta Arenas, New South Wales, and Queensland. Sales concluded with excellent competition, recent improved rates being fully maintained. Punta Arenas wool sold about ½d. per pound above previous sale. Messrs. Charles Bahne and Co., in their closing circular, state that throughout the series competition has been keen and withdrawals unimportant. The bulk of the offerings has been taken by the home trade; buyers on Russian account have again competed actively for the best scoured; while a fair quantity of merino and crossbred wools has been secured by French buyers. Among merinos the best sorts have advanced 7½ per cent., and inferior grades 15 per cent. Fine greasy crossbreds from Australia have appreciated 7½ per cent., but New Zealand growths, which sold exceptionally well in March, are not quotably dearer. Medium qualities ruled at the close from par to 5 per cent., and coarse 5 per cent above previous values. Scoureds and slipes were well competed for at prices from 5 to 7½ per cent. in excess of March parity. Greasy South African wools have been in keen demand. Combing sorts have risen from 10 to 15 per cent., and clothing about 5 per cent. Snow whites have also sold well, the best descriptions being 7½ per cent., and medium and inferior 10 per cent. higher. The improvement in values during the series which have just closed brings quotations for merinos to higher level than they attained during the present movement, and higher than has been known by the present generation. Fourth series commence 30th inst.

The Irish Times.

MONDAY, MAY 8, 1916.

In London the Stock Markets were sluggish on Friday, and on Saturday the tone was again dull. Price movements, however were not important. Money was in good supply, and daily loans, after being made at 3½ per cent., fell back to 3½ per cent. and even less. The Discount market was without feature. Two months' bills were quoted 4 3-16 per cent.

Germany's Reply.

A year ago to-day the newspapers contained the news that the Lusitania had been torpedoed and sunk off the Irish coast, and that among the passengers who perished were many American citizens. To-day we publish Germany's reply to the stern Note sent by the United States Government on April 20th. This Note contained the demand that Germany should, without delay, renounce the methods of submarine warfare which she has employed for the past year against passenger and cargo ships. Otherwise, there was "no other choice" than to break off diplomatic relations. Germany's reply is a sort of compliance with the demand of the United States Government. It announces that the German naval forces have been ordered to observe, both within and outside the war zone, the principles recognised by international law: merchantmen are not to be sunk without warning and without the saving of human lives, unless the ships attempt to escape or offer resistance. This is no more than was promised by Count Bernstorff on behalf of the German Government some months ago, but the promise was not kept. Since it was given, there has been, as the most conspicuous breach of the undertaking, the sinking of the passenger steamer Sussex by a German torpedo. It was this that gave the United States Government occasion for its last peremptory Note, though the case of the Sussex, as was said in the Note, was but an illustration of the deliberate methods of indiscriminate destruction of vessels of all kinds, nationalities, and destinations by the commanders of German submarines. Even without the tangible evidence which exists in the form of fragments of the torpedo, no one could doubt that the destruction of the Sussex was the work of a German submarine. It is typical of German methods of diplomatic discussion that the Reply opens with the statement that the German Government "clearly sees the possibility of the ship torpedoed by a German submarine, and mentioned in the Note of April 10th, being in fact identical with the Sussex," and that it "must reserve further communication on the matter until some facts of decisive importance for forming a judgment on the circumstances have been ascertained." By such methods Germany has maintained a paper controversy with the strongest neutral Power, while her submarine commanders, under various flags, went on making "mistakes such as have, in fact, occurred."

Is the issue between the United States and Germany to remain in the region of paper controversy? The German reply is plainly constructed with that object. The order stated to have been given to the German naval forces, on the face of it, satisfies—if it be carried out—the demand made in the United States Note. But a condition is put to its enforcement. "Should the steps taken by the United States Government not attain the object of having the laws of humanity followed by all the belligerent nations, the German Government would then be facing a new situation, in which it must reserve to itself complete liberty of decision." Such is the final sentence of the reply. It is explained by the lengthy complaints as to British action which make up the greater part of the document. The German Government, in fact, under the guise of making the "utmost possible concession"—its term for the promise of compliance with the principles of humanity and the rules of international law—seeks to make the United States its servant in weakening the economic pressure of the British naval blockade. The frequent use of the phrase "the freedom of the seas" is designed to arouse American jealousy of Britain's naval power. It is again implied, as in former documents of this kind, that Germany's ruthless methods of submarine warfare have been merely a desperate means of self-defence against "the illegal warfare of Great Britain, in a fight for the existence of the German nation." The argument does not accord with facts. The German submarine blockade of the British coast was proclaimed on February 13th, 1915. The German Admiralty announced its intention of sinking after that date every British merchantman sighted by German vessels, and added that it might not be able to spare neutral vessels. Admiral von Tirpitz said that ships would be sunk "even if it is not always possible to avoid, in so doing, peril to the crews and passengers."—As a matter of fact, German submarines had attacked and sunk merchant ships long before this announcement. It was not until the following April that the British Order in Council was published.

Quite apart, however, from the reasons that led Germany to engage in methods of submarine warfare which are grossly inhuman and illegal, the German Government has no right to make its compliance with recognised principles of warfare conditional on Washington's engagement and success in diplomatic negotiations with another belligerent. President Wilson has already said as much. The Government of the United States, he told Germany, when she attempted to settle the Lusitania discussion on the same lines, cannot discuss the policy of the Government of Great Britain in regard to neutral trade except with that Government itself. It must regard the conduct of other belligerent Governments as irrelevant to any discussion with the German Government of grave and unjustifiable violations of the rights of American citizens by the German naval commanders. To repeat the proposal after so stern a rejection of it by the United States Government is sheer insolence on Germany's part. It is not the only piece of impertinence in the reply. For example, Germany rebuts proposals previously made to the United States with the object, as she says, of reducing to a minimum the inevitable dangers of sea warfare for American passengers and goods. These proposals, it will be remembered, amounted to a suggestion that Americans should travel only by certain ships which Germany would specify and promise to respect. The repetition of this offer is in keeping with the general tone of the reply, which exhibits in every line a studied contempt of the United States Government, and roundly accuses it of siding with Britain. We cannot imagine that such a document will appease the Americans. Its main object appears to be to keep the long discussion still open, and to give the signal to German sympathisers in the United States to renew the agitation for the "freedom of the seas," and to create fresh friction between the United States and ourselves.

Sir John Maxwell's Tribute.

The communiqué from General Sir John Maxwell which we print to-day will be deeply appreciated by the people of Dublin. They will thank him for his care to give Dublin its due at a time when domestic anxiety was added to the heavy responsibilities of his military task. The recognition, however, was fully deserved. The incidents of the insurrection have increased the high fame of our city hospitals. Their efficiency and skill were tried as by fire, and emerged magnificently from the test. Nobody who ventured near the scenes of the worst street-fighting will ever forget the utter contempt of danger, the splendid coolness, which were shown by the medical, surgical, and nursing staffs of these hospitals. We do not think that many of the rebels fired deliberately on civilians, but there is little discrimination in a hail of bullets. Time and again these brave men and women took their lives in their hands, and it is truly marvellous that so few of them fell victims to their devotion. The fearlessness of the nurses, to which Sir John Maxwell refers particularly, has added a new glory to the traditions of their profession. He pays a well merited tribute also to the work of the Dublin branches of the Red Cross Society and the St. John Ambulance Brigade. When these organisations prepared themselves to deal with the wounded from the great war they never guessed that they would themselves be so soon involved in "the real thing." Their training and discipline endured it nobly. No Red Cross or ambulance man—or woman—shrank from duty even when duty seemed to be almost certain death. For at least one it was, indeed, death, but a death that left behind it a lasting memory of service and sacrifice. The General's tribute is extended to many medical men and private citizens who put all their science and their houses at the disposal of the wounded soldiers. There are other citizens—many hundreds—who gladly refreshed the weary troops from the best resources of their larders at a time when there was small prospect of replenishing them. These men and women—doctors, nurses, and civilians—have done much to diminish the shame that the insurrection has put on Dublin. They proved themselves worthy of the Irishmen who are fighting in France.

Daylight Saving.

"Daylight saving" has been before the public for some years. People have agreed that the idea is good, and hardly any practical difficulty has been raised. It might be supposed that railway managers would object to it: on the contrary, they have long supported the principle. Postal officials are not against it. The only great difficulty foreseen by postal and railway authorities was concerned with the relation to Continental time and foreign mails. Even that difficulty is now disappearing. In three Continental countries "daylight saving" has been put in operation already, and a fourth—France—is about to follow suit. The position is reversed—the difficulty will arise if Britain does not adopt the plan. This, however, is not the case of the new prospect of success which has come to the patient and persistent advocates of the reform. An argument arising out of war conditions has suddenly brought "daylight saving" from an amiable fad to a matter of practical business. This argument is tersely put by the Home Secretary, in a letter which he has written, warmly commending the plan. He speaks of "the saving, in time of war, of an appreciable proportion of our expenditure on fuel (for lighting) and the releasing of a great quantity of coal urgently required for other purposes by our Allies and ourselves." The House of Commons will discuss to-day a resolution on the subject submitted by Sir Henry Norman. There is reason to believe that the House will be friendly to it. The fuel question is pressing. The Government Committee on the Disposal of Coal has urged the immediate adoption of the "daylight saving" scheme. The general managers of the great railways have made a fresh representation in favour of it. The Association of Chambers of Commerce passed unanimously a resolution treating the adoption of the scheme as an urgent matter.

GERMANY AND THE AMERICAN NOTE.

AN ALLEGED "CONCESSION."

After a delay of over a fortnight, the German Government's reply to President Wilson's ultimatum of April 20 on the subject of submarine atrocities has been handed to the United States Ambassador, and issued by the Berlin authorities.

The chief points of the document may be summed up as under:—

Germany still professes to be unaware whether the Sussex was torpedoed or not, but admits the "possibility," and says she will "draw the necessary conclusions" if such is proved to have been the case.

The German Government "resolutely rebuts" the American statement that the Sussex case is but an illustration of the deliberate method of indiscriminate destruction of vessels of all kinds, nationalities, and destinations by the commanders of German submarines, and declares that the American Government "has omitted to justify its assertion by concrete facts." It may be pointed out, however, that the Note of April 20 had an appendix citing sixty-five specific instances.

It is claimed that the German naval forces have been instructed to wage submarine warfare according to the general principles of international law as regards stopping, searching, and destroying merchantmen, with the sole exception of the submarine warfare waged against enemy cargo vessels encountered in the British war zone, concerning which no assurance has ever been given to the United States Government, even up the declaration of February 8, 1916."

The German Government can admit of no doubt being entertained that orders to this effect were "loyally issued and loyally executed," but admits that "mistakes" such as have, as a matter of fact, occurred, are not "entirely avoidable" in any kind of warfare.

A large portion of the Note is occupied by the usual complaints about "British inhumanity," and the blockade, and by perfervid assurances of Germany's desire to conduct war on the lines recognised by international law, of which, it is alleged, she has been one of the most ardent supporters.

The German Government now announces that the following order has been issued to the German naval forces:—

"In accordance with the general principles of visit, search, and destruction of merchant vessels recognised by international law, such vessels, both within and without the area declared a naval war zone, shall not be sunk without warning and without the saving of human lives unless the ships attempt to escape or offer resistance."

DESTROYED PROPERTY.

MEETING OF CITIZENS.

An important meeting will be held at the Mansion House, Dublin, at noon to-day, at which traders and property owners who have suffered loss by the destruction of their premises and effects during the recent disturbances are invited to attend. The position of affairs will be considered, and organised and joint action will be taken to protect all the interests concerned.

COMPENSATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I desire to endorse the resolutions passed by the Council of the Chamber of Commerce on Friday last, to the effect that the necessary funds for restoring the buildings and property of unoffending citizens destroyed during the rebellion should be provided by the Imperial Treasury, as the outbreaks which occurred were undoubtedly due to the unpardonable laxity of the Irish Government. Unless the above course be adopted, I fear that many of the unfortunate inhabitants of our city will be absolutely ruined.—Yours, etc.,

L. A. WEST.

Grafton House, 102 and 103 Grafton street, Dublin, May 6th, 1916.

TRINITY COLLEGE, DUBLIN.

The Provost of Trinity College desires us to announce that on Sunday next there will be the usual Service in the College Chapel at 9.45 a.m.

ALEXANDRA COLLEGE.

The Alexandra College, Dublin, will reopen to-morrow, and the special training departments in education, secretarial work, housecraft, and the training department for gymnastic and games mistresses will also resume work on that day.

POSTAL DELIVERIES.

To-day, and until further notice, there will be three deliveries of letters throughout Dublin—at 7.30 a.m., 12.30 p.m., and 6.30 p.m.

There will be two collections from all letter boxes—namely, the ordinary morning collection made between 10 and 11 in the morning and the earlier of the evening collections, made between the hours of 3 and 4 p.m.

CITY OF DUBLIN STEAM PACKET COMPANY.

The City of Dublin Steam Packet Company's premises were uninjured during the rebellion, and the half-yearly meeting of the Company will be held to-morrow at one o'clock.

CHURCH OF IRELAND PRINTING COMPANY.

The printing premises of the Church of Ireland Printing and Publishing Company (Ltd.) and of the Rapid Printing Co., Middle Abbey street, have been completely untouched by fire, and both these companies are now working as usual.

VALUABLE FIND IN SACKVILLE STREET.

On Tuesday last Mr. Scully, Ignatius road, while escorting his wife through the firing line in Sackville street, picked up a large number of "advice notes," value for £81 odd, and handed them over to the postal authorities. The notes were from Antrim, Kerry, Clare, and Galway, others being from branch post offices in the city. Mr. Scully was only prevented from collecting more of these valuable documents, with which the street was strewn, by the fire of the Sinn Feiners in the Post Office.

Prince Albert, having been passed fit for service by the Medical Board at the Admiralty, has left Windsor Castle to rejoin his ship with the Fleet.

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

153 FLEET STREET, LONDON, SATURDAY NIGHT.

Rumour has been busy with the name of Lord Derby in connection with Ireland, perhaps because he was seen in the Lobby on Thursday. At present, however, it is not known whether the present Viceroy will feel under any obligation to follow the example of Mr. Birrell and Sir Matthew Nathan. No doubt, Lord Derby, who has great wealth combined with firmness of character and sporting tastes, would make an excellent Lord Lieutenant in peace-time; but it is doubtful whether at the present juncture he would feel justified in going to Ireland.

As for the Chief Secretaryship, I see that rumour attributes it to Mr. Lewis Harcourt, who, with Mr. Churchill, was mentioned in connection with the post at the time of Mr. Birrell's appointment in 1907. If Mr. Asquith wants to get the best man for the post he should try to persuade Mr. Long to take up his abode once more at the Chief Secretary's Lodge. He did wonders in restoring public confidence during his short tenure of office in 1905, simply because he used his commonsense, put on no frills, and was not above talking to anybody who could give him useful information.

The revolt of the Sinn Feiners and Syndicalists in Ireland has brought forth strong suggestions that all organised volunteer movements in the country should be dropped for the present. This could be done if Sir Edward Carson and Mr. Redmond thought such a step advisable. Both recognise that every warlike effort should now be directed against the Germans, and it may be said without offence that the Ulster Volunteers have realised that all along. Circumstances have changed since these Volunteer bodies were brought into being.

In the meanwhile it is interesting to note that the offer of Sir Edward Carson to the Government of the services of the Ulster Volunteer Force has been accepted, although nothing has been decided as to the duties of the men. This, in a way, means that the force has been officially recognised. With official recognition, the control of the force would pass out of the hands of the Ulster leaders, and they would be enabled to devote their efforts to other ends.

If the rate at which Zeppelins can be built increases so does that of their destruction. Already, with the three destroyed this week, the Germans are known to have lost more of these monsters in 1916 than they did during the whole of last year. If we allow for inevitable accidents in construction and during trial-trips it is probable that the Zeppelin Fleet is not nearly so large as we are sometimes tempted to imagine.

Nothing, perhaps, gives a better idea of the advance made in aviation than that the Italian Prime Minister should, as a matter of course, visit Venice in an aeroplane. Both Mr. Churchill and Colonel Seely made it a part of their business when they were in charge of the Navy and Army respectively to get a practical acquaintance with flying; but of the existing Cabinet Mr. Balfour is, I believe, the only member who has been up in an aeroplane.

The Minister of Munitions was well cheered during his stirring speech this week, but most of the applause came from the Unionists. His old supporters below the Ministerial gangway were for the most part silent or hostile. The division was satisfactory, as showing how few members were prepared to resist compulsion as soon as it was clear to them that the national safety depended upon it. Few of the 36 who voted against it would return to the House of Commons if there were a General Election to-morrow.

Six pages of amendments to the Military Service Bill appear in the Parliamentary papers. Captain Amery suggests that the age limit should be lowered to seventeen on one side and raised to fifty on the other, while, in common with Sir Frederick Banbury, Sir John Lonsdale, and Mr. Radford, he wishes the Act to apply to Ireland. Mr. King suggests that, if any Irish rebel between the ages of eighteen and forty-one voluntarily joins the Army within thirty days of the passing of the Act, and conducts himself satisfactorily, he shall not be liable to be proceeded against, or punished, or further punished, as the case may be, for anything done by him during the rebellion.

At the moment the ordinary householder is more interested in the proposed daylight-saving than in any other question of the day; and curiosity is rife as to how the House of Commons will vote on the subject next Monday. In spite of the Home Secretary's recent appeal, there is likely to be a good deal of opposition to what the Globe calls a "statutory juggle with the clock," as many members think that the end in view could be more easily achieved by a general alteration of business-hours, beginning with the Government itself.

Great efforts are being made to get the motion in favour of daylight saving passed by the House of Commons. The House once before agreed to a resolution on the subject, and the probabilities are that such a motion will be again adopted. In that case a Bill may be introduced almost at once, and hastened through the Houses of Parliament in order that full advantage may be taken of the long days now at hand. Many members of the House, under other conditions, would have opposed such a Bill, but they are impressed with the idea that a considerable national saving in fuel and lighting would result.

It was not expected in the United States that Germany in her Note would announce that she intended to abandon the submarine policy she has hitherto pursued. Count Bernstorff, in fact, had already admitted as much to Mr. Lansing. An assurance that the German Government would confine the activities of its submarine commanders in accordance with international law has been given several times and always broken, and its repetition is not now likely to influence the United States Government.

Sir William Bull will on Monday ask the Prime Minister to whom should individuals or companies apply for compensation for losses caused by fires in Dublin and elsewhere in Ireland during the recent riots and rebellion.

Extraordinary rumours of great rioting in German cities are coming to hand through neutral sources, but we have had such stories before, and it would not be wise to place too much credence in them now. From Rome, however, it is stated that Herr Liebknecht, who was arrested at a peace demonstration last Sunday, has had to be released owing to the popular clamour. If there is really anything in this movement in Germany, it will soon become known definitely, but at present the stories are mostly rumours.

The Queen, who has been showing a noteworthy interest in the work of women artists, has promised to pay a visit of inspection to an exhibition of art by women which is to be held here within the next few weeks. Its object is to help the women artists who are suffering through the war, and twenty per cent. of the proceeds from sales will form a fund to be applied to the instruction of women artists in various trade processes, and to provide for their maintenance while learning. It is hoped that the Royal assistance will help to make the exhibition a great success.

Gradually the enemy alien element is being frozen out of our national institutions and business corporations. The Baltic has been most thorough-going in its cleansing. Before the cross-Channel Sussex was torpedoed all members of enemy origin, with the exception of those over sixty years of age, or having sons serving in the British forces, were excluded. A further step has now been taken, and in future the renewal of subscriptions from everyone of enemy nationality will be refused, while the birth certificate of any foreigner who may be proposed for election will have to be produced. At the same time, steps are to be taken to prevent trade with Germany when peace is declared.

SITUATION IN DUBLIN IMPROVED.

FURTHER SEARCHES FOR SNIPERS.

Official intimation was issued on Saturday that further rebels had been tried and sentenced. The sentences are given below.

The state of Dublin generally is improving steadily. Yesterday searches for snipers were continued in various parts of the city.

Reports from the provinces indicate that the rebels have been handing in their arms in various centres.

STATE OF DUBLIN.

QUIETNESS RESTORED.

The streets of Dublin have almost resumed their normal quietude. The military are still on duty at numerous places, while at other less disturbed areas armed "G.R." Veterans and police constables, acting together, are on street duty. The men who have had to do duty out of doors have experienced exceptionally cold and inclement weather since Friday. On that day heavy rain began to fall. It continued without intermission through Friday night, Saturday, Saturday night, Sunday, and Sunday night. It was still raining at an advanced hour this morning. The accompanying sharp fall in the temperature caused the maximum amount of discomfort to everybody who was obliged to be about the city.

Energetic searches continue to be made by the military in districts suspected of harbouring rebels or concealing arms and ammunition. Several large areas were searched yesterday, and a number of arrests were made. In one or two of these places shots were fired, whether by the military or snipers it is impossible to ascertain, but so far as could be learned no casualty occurred. The public would do well to realise that no ingress or egress can be permitted in areas where the operation of searching is going on. Civilians who may be in possession of passes may feel aggrieved at this restriction, but they must remember that Dublin is now under Martial Law. The authorities are desirous of causing as little inconvenience as possible to law-abiding citizens in going about their lawful business, but the military have an imperative duty to perform to the public at large, and it must be done thoroughly at any cost.

The extension to 8.30 p.m. of the hour at which citizens must be within their own homes has been much appreciated by them.

Morning Service and shortened Evening Service were held at almost all the city churches yesterday, but the congregations were small. It is worthy of note that the preacher appointed for Christ Church Cathedral yesterday morning was unable to attend, and no sermon was delivered, a fact which is probably unique in the long history of this place of worship. Several of the preachers in other churches referred to the deplorable events that have occurred in Dublin during the past fortnight, and some of these references are published in our columns.

Last night passed quietly.

DUBLIN TRAMWAYS.

The Dublin United Tramways Company announces that the following are the hours at which the last cars will leave each day for the present:

From Pillar for Dalkey, 7.15 p.m.; from Pillar for Blackrock, 7.45 p.m.; from Pillar for Terenure, 8.0 p.m.; from Pillar for Dartry, 8.0 p.m.; from Pillar for Donnybrook, 7.30 p.m.; from Pillar for Clonskea, 7.30 p.m.; from Pillar for Palmerston, 7.30 p.m.; from Pillar for Glasnevin, 7.45 p.m.; from Pillar for Drumcondra, 7.45 p.m.; from Pillar for Parkgate, N.C. road, 8.0 p.m.; from Kenilworth road to Lansdowne, 7.30 p.m.; from O'Connell Bridge for Parkgate street, 8.0 p.m.; from Ballybough for Parkgate street, 8.0 p.m.; from College Green for Inchicore, 8.0 p.m.; from College Green to Drumcondra via Capel street, 7.45 p.m.; from Amiens street to Clontarf, 8.0 p.m.; from Amiens street to Howth, 7.15 p.m.

RAILWAY ARRANGEMENTS.

The Midland Great Western Railway Company announce that on and from to-day the down and up limited mail trains and connections will re-commence to run. The night mail trains will also run.

The full service of trains on the Great Southern Railway will be resumed to-day.

The passenger time table for trains on the Great Northern system is published in another column. With a few exceptions, the full passenger and goods service has now been resumed.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB AMBULANCE SERVICE.

In a notice of the remarkably good work done by members of the Automobile Club and their drivers, in bringing the wounded to hospital during the days of the fighting in Dublin, it should have been mentioned that Mr. S. T. Robinson, 27 South King street, rendered valuable service. Not only did Mr. Robinson drive an ambulance waggon, but he was also of the greatest possible service in effecting necessary repairs to the cars.

ABBEY THEATRE.

The Abbey Theatre Company intends to revive a series of comedies at matinée performances. The first performance will take place on Wednesday afternoon next, at 3.30 o'clock, when performances will be given of Mr. Wm. Boyle's comedy, "The Mineral Workers," and Mr. Bernard Duffy's comedy, "The Coiner." Probably a new comedy by Mr. Lennox Robinson, entitled "The White-Headed Boy," will be produced shortly.

WORK OF DOCTORS AND NURSES.

SIR JOHN MAXWELL'S TRIBUTE.

"SERVICES RENDERED AT PERSONAL RISK."

The General Officer Commanding-in-Chief the Forces in Ireland has issued the following:—

Headquarters, Irish Command, Parkgate,
Dublin, 7th May, 1916.

I desire to express my sincere appreciation of the services rendered during the recent disturbances in Dublin by the medical, surgical, and nursing staffs of many of the city hospitals, and in particular of the gallantry shown by those nurses who exposed themselves to a heavy fire in attending to and removing the wounded.

Also to the members of the Red Cross and St. John Ambulance Societies and the many medical men and private individuals who gave assistance in attending to the wounded or placed their houses at the disposal of the military for use as dressing stations.

In numerous instances these services were rendered at considerable personal risk and under circumstances reflecting the greatest credit on those engaged in them.

(Signed) J. G. MAXWELL, General,
Commanding-in-Chief the Forces in Ireland.

IN THE PROVINCES

ARRESTS AND SEARCH FOR ARMS.

GUNS HANDED UP IN KERRY AND LIMERICK.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

BELFAST, FRIDAY.

An effort is being made in Ulster by the military and police authorities to "round up" the members of the Sinn Fein organisation in the province and secure their arms. A number of arrests have already been made in Co. Tyrone, the condition of which is quite normal. Houses in the Carrickmone, Eskraghnoy, Greencastle, and Gortin districts of Tyrone were searched for arms, ammunition, and incriminating documents by a force of police under District Inspectors Coulon, of Omagh, and Barrington, of Dungannon. In other country districts a vigorous search is in progress.

To-day the process of searching and arresting Sinn Feiners was initiated in Belfast. There is a small, though active, branch of the rebel organisation in the city, and it is stated that they were well provided with arms. Twenty arrests have been effected up to the time of writing, and the police are still proceeding with their search.

SURRENDER OF ARMS IN LIMERICK.

The Sinn Fein Volunteers in Limerick handed over their arms and ammunition on Friday and Saturday last. It was arranged that the Mayor should receive the arms from the Volunteers at the Town Hall, and hand them over to the military. The Lord Mayor was accompanied by the Town Clerk and a number of military officers were present. The Volunteers began to arrive about 8 o'clock, and continued to hand in rifles, revolvers, and ammunition until 10 o'clock. The Lord Mayor and the Town Clerk received the weapons, and a record was made which was handed to the military. On Saturday evening the Lord Mayor again attended at the Town Hall to receive arms from Volunteers who were unable to attend on Friday night. Everything passed off quietly.

ARMS HANDED UP IN KERRY.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

TRALEE, SUNDAY.

Yesterday being the last day according to proclamation for the handing in of arms and ammunition by the Sinn Fein Volunteers, speculation was rife as to whether the Volunteers would respond. From outlying districts there came news during the day that the arms were being handed in, and that everything was calm and peaceable. In Tralee the arms were not handed in until last night. The members of the local Sinn Fein Volunteers conveyed the arms to their headquarters at the Rink, where, it is stated, they rendered them useless, and then, packing them up, handed them over to the military. No incident of any untoward nature occurred, and their was not the slightest semblance of excitement.

ARRESTS IN DUNDALK.

In the early hours of Thursday morning a force of police and military visited the houses of a number of young men in Dundalk who were stated to have been connected with the Sinn Fein movement, and made fifteen arrests. A number of others have since been arrested. In addition to these, some men were arrested in Drogheda, Dunleer, and Ardee.

ARRESTS IN MAYO.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CLAREMORRIS, SATURDAY.

Several arrests have been made in Mayo in connection with the late rising.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDEMNATION.

GALWAY COUNTY COUNCIL.

The following resolution was unanimously passed by the Galway County Council at their meeting held on the 3rd May:—

"That the Galway County Council desires to express its condemnation of the recent disturbances of social order brought about by irresponsible persons, whereby great damage has been done to the material prosperity and prospects of Ireland, and numbers of simple, uneducated peasants have been cajoled and threatened into open defiance of the law. We resent most of all the outrage upon the honour and dignity of Ireland, and the attempt which has been made to dishonour her pledge solemnly given by her responsible leader, Mr. Redmond. We rejoice that this dastardly attempt has failed, and that the people of Ireland have shown by their conduct in this crisis that Ireland is determined that her word shall be faithfully kept. We tender to Mr. Redmond the fullest assurances of our sympathy and support in the present trying circumstances."

CARRICKMACROSS COUNCIL.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

DUNDALK, SATURDAY.

At the meeting of the Carrickmacross Board of Guardians—Mr. Patrick Callan presiding—Mr. Edward Kelly, J.P., referring to the Dublin revolt, said he was perfectly convinced that it was the most disastrous thing that had occurred in Ireland for centuries, and he was prepared to pass a resolution condemning those who had been responsible for it. So far as the rank and file were concerned, he would be inclined to make an appeal to the authorities for leniency, as from what he knew and from what he had heard he believed these people were led like lambs to the slaughter. He saw where the leaders were being shot, and he hoped the tender-heartedness of the people of the rural districts of Ireland would not get the better of them, and that they would all approve of the shooting of these rebel leaders. From the districts around Carrickmacross he knew what some of the Sinn Feiners were. To his mind, they were nothing but cowards, who had flinched conscription when John Redmond declared that Ireland would be a strong arm in this war.

Mr. Shevlin said he would be in favour of condemning the "rising," but he would appeal for mercy for the rank and file. He believed that a lot of those who joined the Volunteers imagined that they would never be asked to do anything—that it was only a bit of bluff. When the war started 99 per cent. of these fellows were against the Germans; but when the talk of conscription came on they thought they were safe when they became antagonistic to the Allies.

Mr. A. Fennell, J.P., said that the statement that the Volunteers had prevented conscription was a damnable lie.

Mr. Shevlin agreed, and said at one time it was not safe to walk the roads with these boys having rifles and ammunition.

It was agreed that a resolution deploring the Dublin rising, asking for leniency for the rank and file, and expressing confidence in Mr. Redmond should be telegraphed to Mr. Redmond on behalf of the Board of Guardians and the Rural Council.

RELIEF OF DISTRESS IN DUBLIN.

FOOD ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE NECESSITOUS.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD'S PLANS.

The Local Government Board for Ireland, acting in conjunction with the Boards of Guardians of the North and South Dublin Unions, have made arrangements for the relief of distress and for the assistance of all persons who are in necessitous circumstances owing to the present disorganisation of employment.

Tickets will be issued by the Relieving Officers on Tuesday, the 9th instant, at the times and places mentioned below, and will be exchanged for provisions and other necessaries on presentation to any retail trader. The amount of relief will be in accordance with a scale which has been fixed by the Guardians and approved by the Local Government Board. No tickets will be issued to old age pensioners or to wives of soldiers and sailors in receipt of separation allowances. No trader is to supply intoxicating liquor to fulfil any portion of the order.

Should there be any cases urgently requiring relief before Tuesday morning, an application for same should be made to the Relieving Officer of the district at his residence, and for this purpose the names and addresses of the Relieving Officers are given.

Persons who were in receipt of outdoor relief before the disturbances will continue to receive relief on the same scale as before; they are to note that no food will be distributed by the Relieving Officers, all relief being given by ticket as above.

Persons residing in districts of the North and South Dublin Unions other than those mentioned below will be given tickets by the Relieving Officers either at the latters' residences or at the dispensaries.

NOTE.—The relief, according to scale, will be distributed in two instalments, and three clear days will elapse between the distribution of the first and second instalments.

Relief obtained under these emergency arrangements will not entail any poor law disqualification.

Persons who, upon investigation, have been found to have made false representations as to their circumstances when applying for relief, will be liable to severe penalties

Local Government Board, Dublin,
6th May, 1916.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board for Ireland to annex, for your information, a copy of a letter which has been addressed to-day to the Local Representative Relief Committee.

The Board have directed their Inspector, Mr. E. A. Aston, to co-operate as fully as possible with your Committee in giving effect in the selection and allocation of applicants to various forms of relief work. I am directed, however, to impress upon your Committee the necessity for limiting the relief employment to be afforded to really necessitous cases.

In order to prevent overlapping with the operations of the North and South Dublin Boards of Guardians, I am directed to request that a list of names of persons to whom relief is afforded may be forwarded daily to the clerks of the North and South Dublin Unions.

While the Board desire that all genuine cases of unemployment may be dealt with without delay, the Board hope that it may be possible to terminate all special relief measures at a very early date.—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

A. R. BARLAS, Secretary
(Per CHARLES H. O'CONOR).

D. J. Farrell, Esq., City Distress Committee, Exchange Buildings, Dublin.

(COPY.)

Local Government Board, Dublin,
6th May, 1916.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board to confirm the arrangements made with the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor as to measures to be taken to relieve distress arising from the recent rebellion in the City of Dublin.

Your Committee will observe from enclosed memoranda that the Guardians of the North and South Dublin Unions, with the Board's approval, have taken special steps to enable them to dispense relief in a form which will not involve disabilities to the special recipients, and it is hoped that these measures will be adequate to meet the general situation. This relief will be in the form of food tickets issued by the relieving officers in dépôts which will be opened in various parts of the city on next Tuesday morning.

With a view, however, to reducing the amount of relief to be dispensed in this form, the Board approve of the arrangements made at a conference between the Lord Mayor, Sir John Irwin, on behalf of the Local Relief Committee; Mr. John Scully, J.P., T.C., on behalf of the City Distress Committee, and their Inspector, Mr. E. A. Aston, by which employment will be provided as far as possible for those who have been thrown out of employment as the result of the rebellion.

The City Distress Committee will open a special employment register on next Monday morning, the 8th inst., and as far as possible suitable employment will be found for men in connection with the clearance of the site of ruined buildings and other similar work under the superintendence of the officials of the Corporation. Men who are able to establish their claim to relief employment will be allocated by the City Distress Committee to these works, and will be paid at the maximum rate of 4d. per hour—preference being given to men in proportion to the number of their dependents.

In order to meet the requirements of the City Distress Committee, the Board have communicated with the Secretary of the Bank of Ireland authorising the Relief Committee to obtain whatever funds are immediately necessary by means of an overdraft, upon which the Committee are authorised to pay the usual rate of interest. The Board consider that the sum of £1,000 will be adequate to meet the immediate necessities of the case, and funds to this extent may be placed by the Relief Committee at the disposal of the City Distress Committee for the purpose indicated in the foregoing.

The Board will be glad to receive the observations of the Committee as to any further steps which they think the circumstances may require.—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

A. R. BARLAS, Secretary
(Per CHARLES H. O'CONOR).

SPECIAL EXTRA.

FURIOUS FIGHT FOR HILL 304.

GERMANS' HEAVY LOSSES.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

PARIS, SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

Yesterday evening the Germans, after intense artillery fire, launched an attack against our trenches south of Lihons (south of the Somme). The attack was broken by our curtain fire before it got to our barbed wire. Round Verdun the night was marked only by a continuous and violent bombardment of the region of Hill 304 (south-west of Dead Man) and of the Haudromont sector and Thiaumont Farm (north of Verdun). South of St. Mihiel we repulsed a strong enemy reconnaissance, which was trying to carry a small post. East of Bislée (Lorraine) we surprised a patrol which had crossed the Seille near Lafricourt (south of Nomeny). Fourteen prisoners were brought in by us. During the gale on Friday about a score of our captive balloons broke from their moorings. Several were carried into the German lines, while others came down within the French lines. The majority of the observers succeeded in landing in our lines by using their parachutes. News is lacking of some who were carried into the enemy zone.

PARIS, SATURDAY, 11 P.M.

In the course of the day the bombardment continued to be very violent to the west of the Meuse, chiefly in the region of Hill 304 and in the vicinity of the Haucourt-Esnes road. There was no infantry action.

3 P.M.

To the west of the Meuse the enemy bombardment with shells of large calibre and suffocating gas shells continued yesterday and during the night. It attained unprecedented violence in the sector of Hill 304, where we evacuated a portion of our trenches on the northern slopes, completely wrecked and rendered untenable by the fire of the German artillery. Our artillery replied with not less energy, completely checking al advance by the enemy.

In the course of the night a German attack directed on the woods to the west and to the north-west of Hill 304 was repulsed with the bayonet.

It is confirmed that the enemy attack launched the day before yesterday against our positions to the north of Hill 304 was conducted by a fresh division, which sustained crushing losses.

GERMAN OFFICIAL.

Saturday's report says—Fighting was again continued yesterday west of the Meuse. The artillery of both sides was especially active. East of the river a French attack made during the early hours of the morning in the region of Thiaumont Farm was unsuccessful.

At several points on the rest of the front enemy reconnoitring detachments were repulsed. South of Lihons prisoners were brought in by a German patrol.

NEW IRISH UNDER SECRETARY.

It was officially announced last night says the Daily Mail that Sir Robert Chalmers, G.C.B., had been appointed Under-Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, in succession to Sir Matthew Nathan, G.C.M.G., resigned.

RUSSIAN DESTROYERS IN ACTION.

Sunday's German official states:—

Russian destroyers yesterday morning ineffectually bombarded the north coast of Courland between Rohen and Markgrafen (in the Gulf of Riga, 50 miles north-west of Riga).

THE KAISER AND DR. WILSON.

The New York correspondent of the Daily Mail says:—It is reported that private messages were received by Dr. Wilson from the Kaiser, through Mr. Gerard, the United States Ambassador in Berlin, before Germany's Note was despatched explaining that the Note must be worded in rather an undiplomatic manner because of the necessity of placating German opinion at home. The Kaiser is said to have suggested that Dr. Wilson should read between the lines and not take the verbiage too seriously. The inclination now is to believe that Dr. Wilson will adopt a conservative attitude and will interpret the insolences in the German Note along this line

REFERENCES IN THE CHURCHES.

In many of the Dublin City churches yesterday the preachers made special reference to the revolt and its lessons.

ARCHBISHOP BERNARD AND THE REVOLT.

THE LESSON AND THE NEED.

The Archbishop of Dublin, preaching at Morning Service yesterday in the Church of the Female Orphan House, North Circular road, made reference to the recent revolt in Dublin.

The Archbishop's text was Isa. xl. 1, 2: "Comfort ye, my people, saith your God. Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her that her warfare is accomplished . . . that she hath received at the Lord's hand double for all her sins." Comfort ye. This is the message of the Prophet to us to-day, he said. We are all thinking of the same thing. Our hearts are full of the tragedies of the past fortnight, the devastation of our city, the blood and the wounding and the tears which the mad revolt has brought. And our uppermost thoughts are those of sadness and shame. We are sad and sorrowful because of the blood that has been wantonly shed. The blood of the brave soldiers of the King, who came to defend us; it is heartrending to read the lists in the daily papers of the young soldiers, officers and privates, who have been killed in our streets. And we are sad for our faithful police, quiet, good-humoured men, who day by day and week by week kept the peace of the city. They were men of the people, who worked for the people, and some of them have been callously murdered. We are sad for the innocent citizens, not engaged in this rebellion at all—innocent women and children—who have been killed by rifle fire while in the streets, only half understanding what was going on. And we are sad, too, when we think of the wretched men who have lost their lives, trying to stir up a revolt that could never have succeeded. We are sorry, for they are, and were, our countrymen, wanton and wicked as their treason was. And of all this we are ashamed as well as sorry. It is shameful to think that the gallant Dublin Fusiliers should have been attacked by men of their own city, and too many of them killed. The good name of Dublin and of Ireland has been besmirched, and our troops diverted from their natural theatre of action by the recklessness of a few who are unworthy of the name of Irishmen. We are ashamed, and we ought not to hide it. It is time for all decent citizens to speak their minds. Let us have no more of the folly which finds seditious talk interesting or amusing. This is a greater quarrel than any between Roman Catholic and Protestant, Unionist and Nationalist. It is the long impending quarrel between the forces of authority and the forces of anarchy. It has begun now; it will spread, and it is the duty of all God-fearing, quiet men—no matter what their religion or politics—to take their stand on the side of authority, and to express their shame that anarchy should have raised its head in our midst. We are thankful that it has not succeeded, thankful to God for His mercies, and the words of the Prophet come to us to-day with the message we need: "Comfort ye." It is the message to the bereaved—the fathers and mothers of the dead soldier boys. How can we forget them and their grief? God comfort their hearts with the Easter hope of the new day after the darkness. "Comfort ye." It does not only mean "be consoled"; it means "be strong." Be strong in the new life which will arise out of these ashes. Let there be no bitterness. The guilty must be punished for the sake of the innocent and of the generation to come. That is certain. But let there be no bitterness. Strong, resolute action on the part of those in authority, which will effectively prevent any repetition of this tragedy, is what we need, with a strong resolve on our own part that there shall be no more playing with fire.

ST. PATRICK'S CATHEDRAL.

Morning Service at St. Patrick's Cathedral yesterday was not heralded by the customary chiming of the bells, and the few people who attended had to show military permits before the sentries on duty in the adjacent streets would permit them to approach the Cathedral. There was only one route open, the military having closed the other streets, as an extensive search for arms and ammunition was taking place, no male person being allowed to enter or leave the area in which the search was going on. All told, the congregation did not number more than one hundred. The worshippers included Major-General Sandbach, Commanding the Troops in Dublin, and other Staff officers.

The Dean of Derry, who preached on the words: "Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow His steps," I. Peter, ii., 21, said he supposed the question had occurred to some at least of those present, "What special message has our Christian faith to give to help us at this perplexing time in which our lot is cast?" They had been passing through terrible experiences here in Dublin during the past fortnight. The single fact that this Cathedral had been closed for worship during that time was enough to show how exceptional the trouble had been. He wondered how far they should have to go back through the 700 years of its existence to find anything parallel to this state of things. It was heart-breaking to think of the needless suffering that had been caused in this city during those few days, to think of the loss of valuable life, as well as the wanton destruction of property. The forces of evil seemed to have been suddenly let loose, and to have hurt not only combatants, but also innocent women and children. What was the meaning of it all, and how could all this needless suffering of innocent persons be reconciled with our belief in the government of the world by One whom they called the Almighty and Most Merciful Father? That question had been brought home to residents in Dublin in an acute form. In both of the Lessons of the day their

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE SINN FEIN PRISONERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES

SIR,—Men of all parties are seeking some solution of the problem how to deal with the great bulk of the Sinn Fein prisoners when the military courts have dealt with their leaders and organisers. It stands to reason that some just punishment must be inflicted, or some atonement made by them for their crime, which was, in fact, in these days a crime against our common European civilisation.

The only fitting atonement that they can make is service against the German Armies. It is difficult to ask the British Army to accept British rebels as comrades in arms, nor would it probably awaken any response from the convinced Sinn Feiner. Is there any reason, however, why they should not be formed into a brigade to serve under the French Republic? There are historic associations between the French Army and the disaffected in this country, and I have no doubt that a brigade so formed would fight with courage and dash in the French service; and as they prefer a Republican form of government they can try life anew under one. They are now aware that the Germans throughout used them as dupes and tools, failed and deceived them, and probably no set of people are this moment more justly bitter against the German Government. To send such a brigade to fight with the French Armies would be the fittest act of retribution against the infamous German intrigues here, would relieve us from the labour and expense involved in keeping these prisoners in confinement, and would aid our ally.—Yours, etc.,

G. A. McCUSIY.

THE RECONSTRUCTION OF SACKVILLE STREET.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Now that so much property has been destroyed in the vicinity of Nelson Pillar, would it not be possible for the Corporation of the city to take over part of the leases and have a large circular space cleared around that column? It would add immensely to the appearance of our principal thoroughfare when the new buildings rise out of the ashes of the old, and would solve the problem of congestion, particularly at the Earl street corner.—Yours, etc.,

P. LESLIE PIELOU.

THE NATIONAL RELIEF FUND.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I beg to avail myself of your columns to notify the members of the Local Relief Committee that, after consultation with the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor, it has been arranged to hold a special meeting of this Committee in the Mansion House at 11 a.m. on Monday, 8th instant, at which his Lordship will preside, and a resolution will be submitted for forwarding to the Government. It is also proposed to take the necessary steps to relieve, as far as practicable, urgent cases of distress caused by recent events.

Owing to the absence of the usual postal facilities delay may be occasioned in the delivery of the summonses posted last evening—hence this letter.—Yours, etc.,

JOHN IRWIN, Chairman of Finance and Allotments Committees.

The Mansion House, Dublin,

MESSRS. J. W. ELVERY AND CO.

Attention is directed to an advertisement stating that Messrs. J. W. Elvery and Co.'s premises at the Nassau street corner of Dawson street are open for business as usual. They hope to have portion of their Sackville street establishment open for business to-day.

PAYING FOR FOOD

Is the cry for Economy merely a parrot-cry or catch-word—something to prattle and prate about—or is it something that calls for ACTION? The answer is not in doubt for thousands in Ireland now and in the days to come. ECONOMY in food finds its most perfect solution in White's Wafer Oatmeal! It is the splendidly nourishing and tasty Irish brand of rolled oats which all grocers sell in damp-proof packets—a true Staff of Life, most nourishing, most ECONOMICAL.

thoughts were turned to the Cross, and there they found the only possible answer. The Cross was the one abiding, satisfying answer to the problem of the world's suffering, the only answer that could be given with our present knowledge. It did not, indeed, solve the problem; they could not understand it now; perhaps they would know it hereafter. The only hope for their beloved country lay in the increasing acceptance and practice of the plain, but most exacting, teaching of the Cross. Without it the scheme of the world's government was a hopelessly perplexing problem; with it, there arose light in darkness. The Cross must be their one inspiration.

It was deemed advisable owing to the unrest in the vicinity of the Cathedral to hold no afternoon Service, and it was also announced that, until further notice, the daily Services will be discontinued.

CHRIST CHURCH CATHEDRAL.

There was a small congregation at Christ Church Cathedral at morning Service; but there was no sermon, as the preacher whose name had been announced could not get to Dublin.

NATIONAL PRIDE.

SERMON BY LORD WILLIAM CECIL.

Canon Lord William Cecil was the preacher at yesterday morning's Service in St. Bartholomew's Church, Dublin. His lordship's text was, "He hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts." Having spoken of ruined towns which he had visited on the Continent, he said that when he came to Dublin and saw a sight similar to what he had seen in France, he asked himself why was all this decimation, why was it that men could not live at peace and be happy? What was the need of destruction and war? There had been two common causes of all our wars in the past, neither of which was applicable to our present battles. War had been caused by money and by religion. The first cause was not applicable in the present case, because Germany had never been prosperous as in 1915 or at the beginning of 1914. And religion—we knew how religion had caused war; there had been a great many wars of religion. But those wars of religion were past. There was now no religious difficulty that forced war upon us. Where, then, lay the origin of these troubles? If you were cast by some magic force into the planet of Mars, how would you explain that the fruits of our age on the earth had resulted in this terrible struggle in the great majority of the leading countries of the Western civilisation? Some people did not believe in original sin. He did not know whether there were many at the present time who continued in that foolish faith. Original sin was a very terrible and a great reality. So we must look for the cause of war in sin—the sin of pride. Germany had wanted to be the first nation upon the earth; she had despised the rights of all other nations. Some of her greatest thinkers—Nietzsche, for example—despised the humility of Christians; he said that their religion was the religion of slaves.

There were societies for the extirpation of all sorts of vices; but who had ever heard of a society to abolish pride? If you were the founder of such a society, you would not have to take a very large room for your first meeting. You could never detect pride in yourself; yet you could detect it in your neighbours. You met the purse-proud man and the intellectually-proud man. As there was pride in individuals, so also there was national pride. National pride had spurred on Germany to make this great war. It was national pride that was at the bottom of the present trouble in Ireland. Everyone should be a patriot. A patriot should love his country, but he should not hide from himself her faults. National pride forgot these things; for pride, whether individual or national, had got this characteristic: that it was essentially false. It forgot that it was God Who raised up nations and Who cast them down, that it was God Who endowed nations and took His gifts away. Each nation had some gift to give to the great world which God had created, some gift which no other nation could give; and if the nations did not accept their positions, and try to do what they could, it could only result in confusion and disaster.

Lastly, there was also a pride of civilisation, which you would find everywhere in the Western civilisation. This Western civilisation of ours could make machines; it ministered to the pleasures and comforts of life. There was in London an advertisement—a picture representative of the advantages of Western civilisation; in the centre there was a bottle of beer—a very true description of our civilisation. But our age was inferior to the ages that were past in hundreds of other things. The ages that were past had converted the world from heathenism to Christianity; we had difficulty in maintaining ours. The ages that were past had made art and artists; we could hardly imitate what they had done. The ages that were past had risen to higher ideals and loftier aspirations than ours. But God had scattered all the imaginations of their hearts. The German Empire was brought down, and the Irish patriot had humiliated Ireland by the rebellion. The Western civilisation had by its pride, by its very machines, injured itself; it had been reduced to a state of misery. Let us turn from all these thoughts of vainglory and pride, and ask God, Who had humbled us in so many ways, to exalt us again.

RUTLAND SQUARE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Rev. J. Denham Osborne, D.D., delivered a sermon at the Presbyterian Church, Rutland square, yesterday. Preaching from Psalm 10, Verse 1: "Why standest Thou afar off, oh Lord, why hidest Thou Thyself in times of trouble?" and from the text St. John 1-26: "There standeth one among you whom ye know not," he said that the City of Dublin had experienced a horrible baptism of blood and fire. Amongst their membership he doubted if one family had been free during these days from the risk of death and from the torturing thought of possible disaster to their dear native land and to the Empire. Some of them who, in the discharge of duty, had to traverse the streets under fire, had heard with amazement of the seizure and fortification of the strategetic positions of the city, one after another. When the troops arrived their work was done heroically and with splendid efficiency. The entire question of the policy of non-interference with the drilling and arming of bodies of men in this country—a policy which had for so long a period been adopted by the Government—could not be entered on there. All good citizens and followers of the Lord Jesus Christ must surely unite in the hope that with the full consent of the leaders of all parties in this country some form of settlement of political differences would be put into operation. That would be an act of truly Christian patriotism. Meantime they must never give up their faith in the future. Their business and professional men were taking up the tremendous task of re-construction with admirable courage and resourcefulness. Under God's blessing, and with the united efforts of all well-disposed people, there was no reason why they should not have their city restored again, and, let them hope, restored with a big advance made in purifying it and its evil features. They had gone through a ghastly experience, but God had not been absent, and time would show He had not forgotten them or their work. The alarm and perils around them had, indeed, been terrifying. The injury to the city had been terrifying. Their buildings, many of them beautiful, were now in hopeless ruins. Most painful of all was it to those who loved their church to see that church a mass of wreckage. That had been the sad experience of a sister congregation of their own—the minister and people who worshipped in Union Chapel, Lower Abbey street. No congregation of their faith were more attached to their church buildings than their friends in Abbey street. Their deepest sympathy was sincerely with their friends and their devoted minister in their distress. He had already ventured in their name to assure his brother, Rev. Mr. Johnson, of their sympathy, and of their willingness to give any assistance in their power towards the repair of the injury sustained. Worse than the ruin of buildings had been the sacrifice of life—probably more than 200 of the civilian population of the city had perished. Having praised the conduct of the troops in dealing with the resurrection, the preacher said that in most of the insurgent movements of the past some noble aims were to be found and some great names associated, but in this latest German-inspired outburst of Irish disaffection it was profoundly satisfactory to know that the best elements of Irish nationalism had no part and no sympathy.

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCHES.

No reference to the Sinn Fein outbreak was made by any of the clergy at the Roman Catholic Pro-Cathedral yesterday, but in some of the churches sympathy was expressed with members of the congregation who might have lost relatives or property during the disturbance.

LIEUTENANT N. J. DAVIES.

Second Lieutenant Noel J. Davies, whose name appeared on Saturday in the list of officers killed in France, was only 26 years of age. Before he joined the 8th Battalion Royal Dublin Fusiliers he was a clerk in the Dame street branch of the Munster and Leinster Bank. He was a son of the late Mr. James Taaffe Davies, District Inspector of the Royal Irish Constabulary, and of Mrs. Davies, 46 Kenilworth Park, Rathgar, and grandson of the late Mr. Edward Beytagh, Q.C.

SOLDIER VOLUNTEERS IN TRINITY COLLEGE.

In connection with the garrisoning and defence of Trinity College, a detailed description of which has already appeared in the Irish Times, the following additional particulars have come to hand. On the day of the rising, eleven officers, belonging to Colonial regiments, mostly Canadians, were staying overnight in the Soldiers' Central Club, College street. On learning what was taking place in the city, Mr. Hills, the steward of the club, asked the soldiers to go over to the College and render any assistance in their power. This request was at once complied with, and the Colonials, accompanied by the soldier son of Mr. Hills, reinforced the gallant little band which so well defended the College in the earlier stages of the fight. On Thursday eight other soldiers on furlough came into the club, and they also went to the rescue of Trinity College. During the next one or two days fourteen other soldiers visited the club and also went to the aid of the College. These 33 soldiers gave an excellent account of themselves throughout the rising, and succeeded in bringing down many of the rebels.

AN INTERESTING SOUVENIR

As a link in the chain of evidence that is accumulating to prove that the revolution was deliberately planned and executed, the following copy of a postcard is interesting:—

DUBLIN REGIMENT—IRISH VOLUNTEERS.
IV. Battalion—F Company.
Emmet Hall,
Inchicore.

HOLD YOURSELF IN READINESS

By making the following preparations:—Provide full equipment, and have same at hand, including ..... and rations, for ..... Remain at home or convenient thereto, and leave full particulars as to whereabouts.

Then follows the name of the Company Commander.

THE COOMBE HOSPITAL.

The hospitals of the city during the recent crisis have done nobly in assisting the wounded and dying. A word of praise is due to the staff of the Coombe Hospital for the work they did, both in attending the numerous cases and also for having given shelter to many poor women and children for safety. Owing to the demands made on the hospital resources, the staff was kept going day and night, close on thirty cases having been treated for wounds at the hospital and a large number attended outside. A soldier brought to the hospital from the Marrowbone lane area was found to be past human aid. The Rev. Peter Monahan, of Francis street Presbytery, assisted at the hospital and in the surrounding district, and worked indefatigably to secure food for the poor of this congested area.

FALL OF MASONRY IN MIDDLE ABBEY STREET.

Yesterday afternoon the front wall of two houses in Middle Abbey street fell out into the street, injuring two persons, one of whom, Mr. Thomas Lyttelton, Morehampton terrace, Donnybrook, was removed to Jervis street Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. O'Carroll, house surgeon, and detained a patient. Mr. Lyttelton was reported at a late hour last night to be progressing satisfactorily, and the reassuring information was also given that his injuries are not considered to be of a serious description. The other person who was knocked down by the falling débris received only slight injury.

CARING FOR THE "REFUGEES."

On the return North of the "refugees" from Dublin by trains on Monday and Tuesday last, a halt was made at Drogheda Station, and, to the pleasant surprise of the passengers, many of whom had had little real food for days, tea, sandwiches and cakes were handed round to all by the ladies of the district, assisted by the military.

SUPPLIES OF FORAGE TO THE TROOPS.

The unprecedented demand for forage, etc., for the troops in the Dublin district during the eight days that the rebellion lasted was met by the Forage Department of the Army Service Corps in a most expeditious manner. The arrangements were in the hands of Colonel Hunt, A.A.G.; Major McCullagh, Captain Hunter, C.O.; Captain Heashaw, D.P.O.S.; assisted by the following officers—Messrs. McConnell, Spicey, O'Hanrahan, Greenhalgh, McKenna, etc. The main supply depôt at Kingsbridge was subjected to a very severe bombardment by the rebels on Thursday, 27th April.

LUCAN AND LEIXLIP DISTRICTS.

The Lucan and Leixlip district remained absolutely free from local disturbance during the rising, and owing to the energy and resource of Mr. Grossart, the manager, the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway continued its service without interruption.

DR. ELLIOTT'S WILL.

The Right Rev. Dr. Alfred George Elliott, D.D., of The See House, Kilmore, Co. Cavan, Bishop of Kilmore, Elphin, and Ardagh, who died on the 20th September last, aged 67 years, left unsettled personal estate in the United Kingdom valued at £16,882 1/3, of which £8,467 13/1 is in England. Probate of his will, dated 27th April, 1915, with a codicil of the same date, has been granted to the Right Rev. William R. Moore, of The See House, and Mr. Wilton Vaugh, of Leitrim, Carrick-on-Shannon, Co. Leitrim, J.P., the testator left £10 each to his servants, Robert Halliday and William Reeder; his interest in the farm which adjoins the See House, Kilmore, to his steward, James Blair; a sum of £7,000, already given to the Representative Church Body of Ireland, is to accumulate for a period not exceeding 21 years, for augmenting the income of the Bishop of Kilmore; £50 each to his late wife's attendants, Sarah Taylor and Anne Rusk. The residue of his estate is to accumulate for a period not exceeding 21 years, or until it amounts to £30,000, to be known as "The Augmentation Endowment Fund," for encouraging the augmentation of the incomes of benefited clergy in the said diocese.

COMPANY NOTICES.

COMMITTEE FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE SHAREHOLDERS OF THE SECURITIES OF THE

MEXICO TRAMWAYS, LIGHT AND POWER GROUP OF COMPANIES.

E. R. PEACOCK, Chairman.
Stanley Carr Boulter, Arthur Hill, H. F. Chamen, H. Malcolm Hubbard, Robert Fleming, A. F. P. Roger.

To the Bondholders of MEXICO TRAMWAYS COMPANY, THE MEXICAN LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY, LIMITED, THE MEXICAN ELECTRIC LIGHT COMPANY, LIMITED, PACHUCA LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY.

Referring to the Circular issued in February last by the Committee constituted for the protection of the holders of the securities of the Mexico Tramways, Light and Power Group of Companies, inviting holders to deposit their Bonds with the Committee, the Committee announce that the period fixed by the Agreements for such deposit expires on the 30th instant, but to meet the convenience of holders who up to the present have been prevented from doing so they propose, under the powers conferred by the Agreements, to extend the time for deposit until the 30th June next.

Bonds amounting to over £5,400,000 have already been deposited; and the Committee take this opportunity of pointing out to holders who have not already deposited their Bonds the necessity in their own interest of doing so without delay, as the Committee cannot effectively represent and protect holders whose Bonds have not been deposited.

No further extension beyond the 30th June will only be granted on such terms as the Committee may impose.

Bondholders in Ireland may lodge their Bonds with the Provincial Bank of Ireland, Limited, 5 College street, Dublin, who will transmit them to the Bank of Scotland, London, and obtain the Deposit Receipt to be delivered to the Bondholder in respect of the Bonds lodged.

Copies of the Circular issued by the Committee in February last and forms for deposit may be obtained from the Secretary.

By Order of the Committee,
THOMAS PORTER, Secretary.

Herlihy, fourteen, 8 to 13lbs.; Mr. Heaton Armstrong, nine, 10 to 15lbs.; Mr. W. L. Creagh Harnett J.P., four, 9 to 12lbs.; Mr. P. Mann, seven, 10 to 14lbs.; Mr. T. Downey, eight, 9 to 14lbs.

LORD CLANRICARDE'S WILL.

The will of Lord Clanricarde, made on February 2nd, 1916, is proved at £2,500,000. The will contains only about 200 words, and leaves to his niece, Miss Bertha Weyland, £1,000 a year, and to his nephew, Mark Weyland, £2,000.

The residue is bequeathed to his grand-nephew, Lord Lascelles ("Harry Lascelles" in the will), who is the eldest son of Lord Harewood. He was born in 1882, is a lieutenant in the Yorkshire Hussars, and was wounded early in the present war. The estate duty to be paid amounts to £375,000.

LONDON STOCK MARKETS SLUGGISH.

ALL-ROUND TONE DULL.

LONDON, FRIDAY.

The Stock Exchange was sluggish. The new Compulsion Bill, the return of hot weather, and the approach of the week-end combined to produce a further slackening of energy, and the tone of most departments was dull. In the domestic sections gilt-edged issues were inclined to droop, owing to continued discussion of the probability of an early War Loan flotation, which off-set the continued ease of money. Consols remained at 57. The 4½ p.c. War Loan at 94⅛ was ⅛ down, but the 3½ p.c. Loan held at 87½. The Home Railway market displayed fractional irregularity, while Americans remained unsettled, pending the publication of the full terms of the German Note, handed to the United States Government to-day. The reply was stated during market hours to be uncompromising in tone; but Yankee Rails, though nervous, were not weak, and it was significant that Shipping Shares remained spottily good, presumably in the hope that the indiscriminate German submarine campaign might be abandoned. Canadian Pacifics advanced moderately, but Grand Trunk issues were quite out of favour. In the Foreign market all Allied Bonds held firm, and there was a strong forward movement in Peruvian Corporation Securities on reports that the Peruvian Government was about to resume payment of the £80,000 annuity suspended some time back. Rubbers reflected the continued dulness of the staple. Mines ruled slow.

Among Oil Shares dealings were light, and support was not always sufficient to off-set scattered realisations. Royal Dutch Shares were offered, and receded ¼ to 55¼, while the Shells barely held their ground, while the Pref. eased ⅛ to 9¼. North Caucasians, however, further advanced 6d. to 27s. 9d.

INDUSTRIAL SHARES.

In the Miscellaneous market, Shipping descriptions remained active. P. and O. Def. did not hold an early advance. Royal Mails were brisk around 105. Furness Withys, after being over 50s., closed steadily at 48s. Cunards were without further change on the official confirmation of the agreement between the company and the Canadian Northern Railway for the development of trade between Canada and Europe. Marconis were slow. Hudson's Bays did not move in the Land group. Borneos, Forestals, and Nigers all added 6d. Pekin Syndicates gained the turn. Among Supply Shares there were few features of interest. Liptons fell 6d. to 14s. 3d., but the Pref. rose 6d. Bovrils were easier at 20s. Harrods and Lyons did not vary. Armaments were spottily good. Cammell Lairds were up to 5⅛, while Cargo Fleets, Armstrongs, and South Durhams were all better. Mexican Light and Power Common was marked back sharply to 17, and Mexico Trams shed ½ at 24¾. Among Meat Shares, Smithfield and Argentine was supported over 21s. British and Argentine improved to 16s. 6d., and Eastmans gained the turn.

THE MINING MARKET.

LONDON, FRIDAY.

The appearance of the Mining market was again quiet and mostly dull. Kaffirs backed and filled narrowly, business consisting chiefly in light adjustments, while Diamonds were idle. Rhodesians, however, kept on the firm side most of the day. Westralians ruled steady to dull, and the whole market was affected by the nearness of the week-end. Among base metal securities quietness and hesitancy persisted. There was no change in the price of copper metal, but the price of tin rose 15s. per ton. Some scattered realising occurred among silver shares.

Kaffirs ended steadily, but were not at all animated. There was a little Cape support for Far Eastern descriptions. Among Finance Shares Goldfields Def. added 9d. at 27s. 9d. Rand Mines gained the turn, but East Rands fell 6d. Generals were steady at 8s. on the slightly increased monthly profit of the Corporation's subsidiaries to £67,713. Modderfonteins did not move among Gold Shares, but Modder B at 6⅜ and Gedulds at 46s. 6d. were both better. City and Suburbans advanced to 33s. 9d., but Meyer and Charltons lost ⅛. Chartereds did not vary among Rhodesians, though their tone was firm. Shamvas at 1⅛ were ⅛ to the good. Goldfields Rhodesia at 6s. 9d. were 6d. up. Diamonds were quiet. Tintos did not vary in the Copper section. Mason and Barry, however, rose 1s. 3d. to 57s. 6d., and Capes at 81s. 3d. were 6d. better. Horseshoes rose 2s. to 37s. Other Westralians were mostly steady. In the Silver group Casey Cobalts reacted to 8s. 3d. El Oros closed at 11s. after being lower.

SATURDAY'S MARKETS.

LONDON, SATURDAY.

The Stock markets to-day remained without feature, and the tone showed little or no change from Friday. Consols and War Loan Stocks were practically unchanged, but slightly higher prices were current for one or two short-dated Colonial Government securities.

In the Foreign market French National Defence Bonds were easier. Cuban Ports fell to 31, and one or two Argentine issues gave way.

Canadian Pacific Shares improved slightly, and the Pref. changed hands up to 75⅝. Canadian Northern 5 p.c. Income Deb. Stock was dealt in at 54½. Grand Trunk Stocks further receded.

American securities, following Wall street quotations, were generally easier. Eries were supported, and there was a rise in National Railways of Mexico 2nd Pref. to 7. Rock Islands changed hands at 2s. 9d.

There was not much doing in Argentine Railways, but the market was, perhaps, firmer, Central Argentine being dealt in up to 77. Chilian Northern 5 p.c. Bonds recovered to 78, and Mexican 1st Pref. was dealt in at the improved price of 63. Paraguay Central 6 p.c. Deb. Stock rose to 71½.

Among Breweries, Allsopp Pref. was dealt in at 6, and Newcastle 6 p.c. Pref. at 7⅜. Alby United Carbide Shares rose to 22s. 9d., Albert Baker to 8s. 3d., and Bradford Dyers to 23s. 1½d. British Westinghouse Pref. found a buyer at 43s. 6d., and there was business in Bryant and May Pref. at 43s. 9d. Coats were sold at 5⅜, and Curtis and Harvey at 25s. 9d. Fore Street Warehouse Ord. changed hands at 6. J. Mandleberg Ord. at 47s. 6d., Maypole Dairy Pref. Ord. 16s., Def. 22s., Salmon and Gluckstein Pref. 36s. 3d., Sunbeam Motors 69s., and United Alkali Pref. 8⅜.

Forestal Shares further improved to 56s. 6d., and the Pref. were in demand at 35s. Peruvians further advanced, the Debs. changing hands up to 80.

There was profit-taking in regard to Furness Withy Shares, and the price relapsed to 49s., but Royal Mail Stock further improved to 105⅜.

Rubbers quiet and dull. Highlands and Lowlands were on offer at 54s. 9d. Linggi fell to 20s., and United Serdang to 12s. Bandar Sumatra Shares were better at 34s. 6d., and Bila at 9s. 1½d., but Bikam were dealt in down to 4s. 2d., and Kawie Java were sold at 45s. Kuala Selangor were on offer at 21s. 6d., and Lendu fell to 27s. Padang Jawa were sold at 2s. 10½d., and Sampang down to 2s. 6d. Selangor River dropped to 5¼, and Seremban changed hands as low as 23s. 9d. The price of rubber was 2s. 9d. per lb.

In the South African market Goldfields were offered at 23s. 7½d. and Geduld at 46s. 6d., while De Beers Def. Shares were sold at 10⅛. City Deep improved to 78s.

There was a continued demand for Falcon Mines, which further improved to 12s. 6d. Oceana were sold down to 3s., and Randfontein Estates to 12s. 6d. There was support for Tanganyika, which rose to 39s. 3d.

Among Tins, Dolcoath rose to 10s., and South Crofty attracted buyers at 13s. 9d. Anglo-Continental came on offer at 11s. 7½d., and Bisiche fell to 8s. 3d. Naraguta Extended, however, were better at 4s. 6d. buyers, and Minna improved to 1s. 1½d. Mongu dropped to 9s., and South Bukeru were sold at 4s. 6d. East Pool and Agar recovered to 32s. 6d. Gold Coast Amalgamated Shares were better at 16s., and there was a bargain in Wallis Shares at 5s. 1½d.

Among Copper Shares Rio Tinto improved to 61⅛. Cordoba Shares were wanted up to 4s. 3d. Hampdens were steady at 42s. 4½d., and Mount Lyell at 29s. 6d. British Broken Hill Proprietary were no better than 58s. 6d., while Burma Corporation rose to 45s. 6d., and Camp Bird to 11s. 3d. El Oro Shares closed sellers at 11s. 1½d. Oroville Dredging remained at 17s.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

Bank Rate (changed August 8, 1914)... 5 p.c.

LONDON, FRIDAY EVENING.

Loan money remained in good supply, and the rate for call money, which opened at 3⅞ to 4 p.c., fell back later to 3½ p.c., and even less. Weekly loans held at 4 p.c. Nearly a quarter of a million was disbursed in dividends. The discount market wore a lethargic and uninteresting appearance. The supply of paper on offer was very small, but in spite of this fact there was stated to be no material increase in the purchases of Treasury bills at the Bank of England. There will certainly have to be a rapid improvement in this respect if the next War Loan flotation is to be much longer postponed. The decrease in Treasury bill sales last week may to some extent have been designed in view of the big repayments which the market was effecting to the bank, but this argument no longer holds good in the same degree, for repayments are now understood to have slackened materially. Two months' bank drafts were quoted at 4⅞ to 4⅞ p.c., three months' at 4⅞ p.c., and six months' at 4⅞ to 4⅞ p.c. Rates for trade paper were unchanged. The New York exchange quotation remained at 4.76⅞.

The Silver market rallied ⅛d. to 37d. per oz. Some further buying on Continental account was partially off-set by scattered realising to secure profits from India.

There were no bullion operations on foreign account at the Bank of England.

The following foreign exchange rates were current to-day:—New York cables, 4.76½ to 4.76⅞; Paris cables, 28.28 to 28.31; Amsterdam cables, 11.52 to 11.56; Italy cables, 29.80 to 29.90; Scandinavia cables, 15.56 to 15.62; Petrograd cables, 153½ to 154½; Rio de Janeiro 90 days' bills, 11⅞; Buenos Ayres ditto, 49⅛d.

FINANCIAL NOTE.

The balance sheet of the Yokohama Specie Bank is printed in another column. Prosperity continues to follow the operations of this important Far Eastern Corporation, and the dividend of 12 p.c. paid for so many years, is maintained. The carry forward is slightly larger than in 1915.

RUBBER SHARE MARKET.

The Share market is dull all round, in sympathy with the lower price of plantation rubber, which is 2/9½ per lb. There is no great pressure to sell, however, and in some cases individual shares are distinctly firm. Tebrau are 67/- bid, and Langen are wanted at 45/-. Ashahan keep firm at 18/3, and Carey United at 35/6, while Hayoep are steady at 17/7½, and Tenom are wanted at about 44/-. Amongst small shares, Bode are easier at 2/1, but Eastern Sumatra are inquired for at 1/10½, and brisk dealings continue in Lamag around 1/0½. The highly satisfactory report just issued by the Sungei Buloh Company affords a good illustration of the slight importance to really good class concerns of day to day fluctuations in the price of rubber. After paying a final dividend of 30 per cent. (making 60 per cent. for the year), £22,338 for about 44 per cent. upon the issued capital) is carried forward to the current year (1916), subject to any excess profits duty for 1915. The crop estimate for the present year is 565,000lbs. of dry rubber. As the "all-in" costs are already down to 10.66d. per lb., an average selling price for 1916 of 3/- would mean earnings of 120 per cent. Shareholders in such concerns as Sungei Buloh need not disturb themselves in the least if rubber should stand at 2/9 for a few weeks. Indeed, if rubber were to go to 2/- per lb., and remain at that price from now until 31st December, Sungei Buloh would earn in the present year 94 per cent., as the average for the 12 months would work out at 2/6 per lb.

DIVIDENDS, REPORTS, AND MEETINGS.

CITY OF DUBLIN STEAM PACKET COMPANY.—The report of the directors to the proprietors of the City of Dublin Steam Packet Company for the half-year ended 29th February, 1916, states:—On the 12th November an easterly storm of extraordinary violence came on soon after noon. The fairway between the Carlisle Pier and the entrance to Kingstown Harbour became blocked with shipping. About four o'clock the Admiralty directed a wireless message to be sent to the Ulster, ordering her to return to Holyhead, which was done. The wind backed somewhat to the north, causing the Munster, which was then lying at the west side of Carlisle Pier, to range very heavily. The parapet wall of the Kingstown Railway was washed down in places, the line was blocked, and the train with the night mails was not sent to Kingstown. The Munster did not start until the morning of the 13th, when the mails and passenger train arrived. Her port rubber was considerably damaged, and she was, in consequence, laid up in Holyhead for some days for repair. The Connaught is still on transport duty, and it is understood is considered by the Admiralty a very satisfactory vessel. The carrying on of the mail service in her absence has been a very arduous task, and the directors think it is a cause for thankfulness that matters have gone on as well as they have during the half-year. On the 16th September Mr. Lyndon Macassey, K.C., the arbitrator appointed by the Board of Trade to settle the dispute between the company and the crews of the cargo vessels, heard the case, his award was received on the 24th of the month, and the matter was then settled. The receipts from the mail service have been well maintained. The negotiations with the London and North-Western Railway Company in regard to the divisions of the fares have been continued, but the matter is not yet arranged. The receipts from the cargo service were satisfactory in the early part of the half-year. In September the Admiralty requisitioned the Carrickfergus as a transport, the company carrying on the Belfast trade with the Belfast; the Kilkenny was requisitioned in December. On the 28th October the quay porters in the company's employment in Dublin, who had previously been given a war bonus, demanded a further increase. All these men were working under an agreement which provided, amongst other things, that there was not to be a strike. Representatives of the men were interviewed by the managing director, and were informed that, while the company saw no reason for granting any increase, they were prepared, as in the case of the sailors and firemen, to leave the matter to arbitration by the Board of Trade, a course which the men's representatives said was perfectly fair. However, later in the day it appeared that the Irish Transport Union, of which the men were members, refused to allow them to adopt this course, and on Saturday, the 30th November, a strike took place at the conclusion of the day's work, and after that day the company's cargo sailings were suspended. In the middle of December the company were successful in manning a ship with officers, and with some of the clerical staff maintained a weekly sailing with cattle from Dublin, which proved advantageous, and the vessel brought goods back to Dublin. On the 25th February the company received a letter from Sir George Askwith, K.C.B., the Chief Industrial Commissioner, asking would the company agree to arbitration, and stating that a similar letter had been addressed to the Irish Transport Union, the arbitration to be binding on both parties. To this letter the company replied by return of post, of course agreeing, this being the position they had taken up at the outset. Nothing further has been heard from the Board of Trade. After providing for the interest on the mortgage loan, the mortgage loan sinking fund, the guarantee to the City of Dublin Junction Railways, the balance at the close of the half-year, including £6,046 15/4 brought forward from the previous half-year, was £29,901 14/10. Of this the directors have placed £6,400 to the renewal fund of the trading steamers, and £5,000 to the reduction of compensation to the shipbuilding shareholders, leaving a balance of £18,501 14/10, out of which the directors recommend the payment of a dividend at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum (less income tax) on the 5 per cent. Cumulative Preference Stock, and a dividend at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum (free of income tax) on the Ordinary Stock, carrying forward a balance of £6,144 14/10 to the next account. On this occasion the company feel justified in paying the income tax of the proprietors of the Ordinary Stock, but having regard to the new Budget they cannot undertake to continue the practice. In addition to the war risk, the company are now obliged to pay a tax on profits. In the corresponding half-year the war risk was covered without any extra payment, and a sum was reserved to meet contingencies. Of this sum, as will be seen by the accounts, £4,000 has been ear-marked to meet the claim of the Inland Revenue for excess profits. It has not been possible to add to this fund during the half-year, as the money was expended in war risk premiums. There has been no further communication from the Post Office on the subject, but the directors feel that the company's claim is stronger than ever, to have this risk on the mail packets undertaken by the Government, economy is urged upon everyone, and if the Government undertook the risk they would not have to pay any premium. Much to the regret of the directors, Mr. Wellington Darley has resigned his seat on the Board owing to ill-health. They feel they are parting with a valued colleague and friend, and one whose sound judgment was of great assistance in guiding the affairs of the company. The directors will, at the special general meeting to be held after the ordinary meeting, propose the name of Mr. William Henry Litchfield to fill the vacancy. Mr. Litchfield has been in the service of the company for many years, is in every way conversant with its business, and the directors are satisfied that he will be a valuable addition to the Board. He will retain his present position.

BELSIZE MOTORS.—Belsize Motors has declared an interim dividend on the Ord. Shares of 4 per cent.

WESTERN AUSTRALIAN BANK.—The Western Australian Bank announces the usual dividend of £1 per share, equal to 20 per cent. per annum.

BRAMPTON BREWERY.—A final dividend on the Ord. Shares of 8½ per cent. is proposed, and £23,428 carried forward.

BENGER'S FOOD.—Benger's Food recommends a final dividend upon the £1 Ord. Shares of 1/3 per share, free of tax, making 2/3 for the year, for the half-year ended 31st March.

NARBOROUGH RUBBER.—The Narborough (F.M.S.) Rubber Estate has declared a further interim dividend of 5 per cent. on account of the profits for the year to 30th June next.

OUVAH CEYLON.—It is proposed to pay a final dividend of 10 per cent., making 12½ per cent. for the year (less tax), carrying forward, subject to excess profits duty, £6,695.

ELLAWATTE CEYLON TEA.—It is proposed to pay a final dividend of 6 per cent. on the Ord. Shares, making 9 per cent. for the year (less tax), carrying forward, subject to excess profits duty, £1,150.

MOOLOYA.—It is proposed to pay a final dividend of 10 per cent. on the Ord. Shares, making 20 per cent. for the year (free of income tax), and to carry forward, subject to excess profits duty, a balance of £2,469.

ST. GEORGE.—It is proposed to pay a final dividend of 35 per cent., making 45 per cent. for the year; to write off estates account for depreciation of buildings and machinery £1,500, to place to reserve fund (making it £11,000) £1,000, and to carry forward £5,632.

SPRING VALLEY.—It is proposed to pay a final dividend of 13½ per cent. on the Ord. Shares, making 16 per cent. for the year (less income tax), and to carry forward, subject to excess profits duty, a balance of £6,066.

NATIONAL BANK OF AUSTRALASIA.—The National Bank of Australasia has declared a dividend for the half-year ended 31st March of 7 per cent. per annum on both Pref. and Ord. Shares; £45,000 was placed to reserve fund and £5,000 to reduction of bank premises, £12,000 being carried forward.

HUNASGERIA.—It is proposed to pay a dividend of 10 per cent. on the Pref. Shares for 1915 (less income tax), dividend of 10 per cent. on the Ord. Shares for 1915 (less income tax), and to carry forward, subject to excess profits duty, a balance of £3,250. The tea crop of 488,699 lbs. was sold in Ceylon and London at prices equivalent to a London sale average of 11.50d. per lb.

NORTH BRITISH AND MERCANTILE INSURANCE COMPANY.—At a meeting of the general court, held on 27th ulto., the directors agreed to recommend a dividend to shareholders at the rate of £2 per share, subject to income tax (being the same dividend as last year), payable half on 15th May and half on 11th November next. The company's annual report, which will be obtainable in the course of a few days from E. Tenison Collins, Local Manager, 1 Dawson street, Dublin, shows:—Net fire premiums £2,146,759, as compared with £2,146,289 in 1914. The profit on the fire account (exclusive of interest) is £216,952. New life policies issued insuring net £1,324,713; net premiums £69,007. Total life premium income, £1,235,958; £125,116 was received for the purchase of annuities. The life valuation shows a surplus of £1,851,578. Of this, £1,090,000 has been set aside for depreciation of securities. Out of the remaining balance the directors have declared a compound reversionary bonus of 10/- per cent., carrying forward £123,886. A prospective bonus of £1 per cent. will be allowed on policies becoming claims during the next five years. The annuity valuation shows a surplus of £42,602. £200,000 has been transferred from profit and loss account, and £242,000 has been set aside for depreciation of securities. Amount at the credit of profit and loss at 31st December, 1915, £1,368,852, and after paying the above dividends £1,143,697 is carried forward. The accounts of the Railway Passengers Assurance and Ocean Marine Insurance (whose shares are vested in the North British and Mercantile) are included in the report. Net premiums received by the former company in 1915, £399,306, as compared with £430,206 in 1914; total profit of the year (including interest) £89,515. Net premiums received by the Ocean Marine Company in 1915, £429,668, as compared with £309,711; profit for the year 1914 (excluding interest), £57,594.

TRONOH MINES.—Interim dividend of 1/- per share (less tax at 4/6), payable 31st inst.

CUNARD-C.N.R. DEAL.

OFFICIAL PARTICULARS OF THE NEW WORKING ARRANGEMENT.

A few days ago we (Financial News) announced that the Cunard Co. had completed negotiations with the Canadian Northern Steamship Co., Ltd., for the acquisition of the fleet and the shipping business of the latter company. Some particulars of the arrangement which has been come to between the two companies have now been issued officially.

The agreement, which, it is pointed out, is of great importance to the development of trade and passenger traffic with Canada, provides for a very close working arrangement between the two parties. The Cunard Co. will take over the steamers owned and controlled by the Canadian Northern Railway, which were running before the war from Avonmouth and Rotterdam, and will maintain services between Canada and ports in the United Kingdom and on the Continent.

The Canadian Northern Railway, throughout the vast territory covered by its railway lines from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, will direct its efforts in favour of the Cunard Line, while the Cunard Line will in the same way work in favour of the Canadian Northern Railway. The various Canadian services of the Cunard Line and the Canadian Northern Railway system will thus, in effect, become a single transportation unit between Europe and the Dominion of Canada. Steamship services on the Pacific Ocean are also in contemplation.

The agreement becomes operative at once; but its full effect will not be seen until after the conclusion of the war.

MENTIONED IN DESPATCHES.

The following names are taken from a list which through various causes could not be included at the time, and are now added to the list of officers and men mentioned in General Sir Ian Hamilton's despatch of 11th December, 1915 (published in a supplement to the London Gazette dated 28th January, 1916):—

THE STATE OF IRELAND.

In reply to Mr. William O'Brien, in the House of Commons,

Mr. ASQUITH said he could not promise to give a day for the discussion of the state of Ireland before the business of next week has been taken.

THERE is not a distributing trade in the country that does not use Ford vans; and not one of them is likely to revert to any other form of haulage. There are more Ford vans in use than vans of all other makes (of the same capacity) put together; just because the Ford van, literally as well as metaphorically, "delivers the goods."

AVON TYRES

SOLIDS for BUSINESS MOTORS

¶ Rough riding, not mileage, wears out chassis. Racking jolts and uneven pulling break the heart of engine and driver alike, bringing in their train attendant losses in the form of increased charges for petrol and repairs, damaged goods, delays and so forth.

¶ Tyre resiliency is a more powerful factor in combating evils of this sort than most owners realise. With guarantees standardised and prices practically uniform, the two dominant considerations are resiliency and ultimate cost per mile, and we press for the first-named to be specially examined in the case of Avons, with full confidence that the second will prove the lowest you ever recorded.

¶ Most solids to-day are either too hard or too soft—one fault is as bad as the other. We were never content to have a tyre merely "as good as most," and untiring research has given us to-day an Avon Solid that yields mileage in abundant measure and is all the time thoroughly efficient in resilience to help the engine, cushion the chassis, protect the load.

Linen is Scarce

The Scarcity of Linen

The War has practically cut off all supplies of Flax. The finer qualities that came from Belgium before the War are quite unobtainable, and only a little of the coarser comes through from Russia at great risk and expense.

As the Government is using most of the available stocks for War purposes, it is quite obvious that what remains for the general public is very small. Consequently Linen Goods made to-day are very dear. These circumstances make Walpoles' Sale very advantageous. Walpoles' had enormous stocks of Linen Goods made and large reserves of yarns before the War. By averaging the cost of the goods made before with the cost of those made after the War they are still able to sell a better quality at a much less price than would be possible if the goods were made now.

In view of the fact that many Manufacturers are not producing linen goods at present owing to the tremendous cost of production, it is obvious that sooner or later stocks will be exhausted.

This fact makes WALPOLES' SALE all the more important.

Sound advice is:—Order Linen goods now before they are any dearer and perhaps unobtainable.

If ever there was a time to buy Linen it is now!

As yarns are becoming more and more scarce as the days go by. Indeed, everything points to a Linen famine in the near future.

Of course, the best way to avoid the very high prices of the future is to buy now.

A very economical way is to order during

Walpoles' May Sale of their Irish Linens

which will begin To-day.

It affords the exceptional opportunity of buying at considerably below to-day's value Linen Goods of a quality that may be unobtainable in the future at any price—Linen Goods of a quality superior to those made to-day.

This offer can only hold good while Walpoles' stocks last during the Sale. Therefore, Ladies are earnestly advised to order without delay.

Walpoles' Illustrated Sale Catalogue is just issued. It is full of Linen and other Bargains, and will be sent post free on request.

ALL ORDERS ARE SENT CARRIAGE PAID
